

CASE STUDY:

Bluestone Unit, Craigavon Hospital

£11m Bluestone Unit at Craigavon Hospital is finished using K Rend

The 6600m2 Bluestone Unit, Craigavon was winner of the Best Mental Healthcare Building at the Better Healthcare Awards, 2008.

The 74 bed mental health and psychiatric unit is a mixed facility and has been designed to allow the ration of men to women change over time. The provision of outdoor spaces that heal is the key to concept, where K Rend Silicone FT Polar White was chosen to finish the external walls overlooking the private gardens at the back of the building providing secure and comforting spaces for the patients.

K Rend UF Base Coat and HP 14 Base Coat was specified by David Morley Architects used on the Bluestone unit as substrates differed throughout the development.
